Match Products to Specific Locations
GEO-LISTS
On the Grainger Mobile App

If you manage multiple locations you know each facility has its own unique product needs. The Geo-Lists feature on the Grainger app uses your mobile device's location services to associate your product lists with every building you serve. Need the right bulb, filter or belt for the job? Geo-Lists will show you which product you need for that location and the best way to get it. It's great for field technicians or anyone on the go who faces the challenge of identifying the right products for their facilities.
